Grantees Celebrate at Community Foundation Breakfast

Greencastle, IN – June 3, 2016– An early morning crowd of nearly 60 was greeted by Putnam County Community Foundation President Todd Lewis to celebrate the Community Foundation’s 2016 Spring Grant Awards Breakfast. Lewis gratefully acknowledged the two Breakfast sponsors: Robert Hardwick- Edward Jones Investments and North Salem State Bank. The Breakfast was catered by Almost Home and held in McAnally Center at Greencastle High School.

Susan Lemon, Chair of the Community Foundation’s Grants Committee thanked donors to unrestricted and field of interest endowments that make grant awards possible. Price acknowledged and thanked the work of the grants committee and shared that the committee had requests for $4 for every $1 available to make grants.

Dean Gambill, Director of Community Development, announced that $109,004.47 was being awarded from the Community Foundation’s unrestricted and field of interest endowments. The Community Foundation also facilitated an additional $10,000 in grants through donor advised funds. Gambill explained that two different types of grants were being awarded: Community Grants and Youth Philanthropy Grants. Each has its own application and requirements.

Attendees had the opportunity to hear from representatives of three organizations who received grants and learn about their projects. Chris Hebb told the crowd about Castlemakers, an innovative program modeled after maker programs which have sprung up around the country. Makers groups make resources available to the public to learn the latest technologies and create their own items. Castlemakers is unique in that it is geared for youth.

Austin Wright and Amanda Beals spoke about the 4-H Archery Club. The club involves over 150 students, 75 of which are third and fourth graders. They demonstrated the difficulty that the younger students have with full-size bows and the need for smaller bows and arrows to encourage younger archers. With a grant from the Putnam County Youth Philanthropy Committee, the club will be purchasing smaller bows and shorter arrows.

The Putnam County Hospice and Palliative Care Association was represented by President Julianne Miranda. Ms. Miranda informed the crowd of the formation of a Board of Directors and the hiring of Tammy Hunter as the Executive Director of the organization. The purpose of the group is to educate the public about the availability of services and encourage conversation and planning about end of life issues. The association can be reached through Putnam County Hospital. Funding for the Association is from Putnam County Hospice Fund which was established in 1997 by Mary Louise Miller.
